Mother Of 5 Dies Mysteriously In Falls

Autopsy May Determine Death Cause

MRS. ARLENE BEATTY

Exact cause of death of a 27-year-old mother of five children found slumped outside the kitchen of her Morrisville RD home yesterday will not be known for two weeks.

Dr. Matthew Lopin at St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, where the body of Mrs. Arlene Beatty was taken by police, said it would be that long before results of an autopsy would be determined.

Passage came on a roll call vote of 286-126.

The bill was immediately to the Senate, where backers were maneuvering to speed action on it by bypassing the Senate Judiciary Committee.

House passage was an anti-climax to the long and futile Southern fight for an amendment guaranteeing a jury trial in civil rights contempt cases that might arise under the new legislation. Southerners based their main fight against the bill on the jury trial issue.

Passage came after the House rejected on a roll call vote of 251-153, a final Southern attempt to add a jury trial amendment.

The House previously had rejected four different versions of jury trial amendment on non-reciprocal votes.

The last unsuccessful Southern maneuver was a move to send the bill back to the House Judiciary Committee with instructions to attach the controversial amendment.

The House clerk had the bill ready for immediate transmission to the Senate. This process could have been stretched out had there been any effort to delay this step.

Good Evening!

Heat still holding.

From 100 Sunday to 95 yesterday to 98 today. This keeps up, we'll start enjoying it. What else can you do, anyhow?

You know, this afternoon you could have a barbecue outdoors without using the barbecue.

Swimming pools at the moment the most prosperous business in the world. We never tried writing these paragraphs under water—maybe it would be an improvement; in any event, more relaxing.

And we see where Trevose Heights is plagued by a swarm of rats.

Well sir, that's the way things are. They're worse and then get worse, although at that, we'd prefer one of those playful rodents to these man-eating mosquitos enjoying picnic time in the twilight of the day.

Phillies only two games out of first as the Bucs edge the Braves and as Jack Sanford takes on the Cubs this afternoon maybe also the batting averages will start looking healthy again.

Just wait. The Smith boys will catch up with the pitching if for no other reason than the fact that all of 'em are better hitters than they've been showing.

Mama Firefly to Papa Firefly: "Isn't Junior bright for his age?"

"Why do you want to enter the U.S.?" the immigration official asked.

"I want to lead a peaceful life and make an honest living," replied the immigrant.

"Good," said the official. "That's not one of our overcrowded fields."

"Most of the naughty things I hear about our youngsters," the country preacher said, "are the same things I saw their parents outgrow."

Take it easy with the heat.

Civil Rights Bill Passes In House

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House today finally passed the administration's four-point civil rights bill after defeating a last-gasp Southern move to tack on the disputed jury trial amendment.

Passage came on a roll call vote of 286-126.

The bill was immediately to the Senate, where backers were maneuvering to speed action on it by bypassing the Senate Judiciary Committee.

U.S. Kicks In' On Union Tab

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee said today "Uncle Sam" was bearing a large part of the cost of an $85,000 testimonial dinner for Vice President Max Kralstein of the Bakery Workers Union.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said Kralstein got $61,000 cash out of the dinner in his honor, listed the money as a gift, and paid no tax on it.

The donors, McClellan said, charged off their contributions as tax-deductible business expenses.

McClellan, reopening public hearings on the pretzel-like intricacies of the Bakery Workers Union, charged that another official, John D. Nelson of Los Angeles, paid no income tax in 1952 and 1953. Nelson, McClellan said, filed returns for 1954 and 1956 only after he was subpoenaed.

Refreshing Thought, Anyway

Maybe this shot of a Lower Bucks Creek taken last winter will add something or detract a little from the sweltering heat of today. Look lingeringly

Day School for Mentally Ill Children Is Being Planned

Plans for the opening in September of an area day school for emotionally and mentally disturbed children were discussed at a meeting last night in the home of Mrs. Israel Weintraub, 54 Freeborn Lane, Farmbrook, Levittown.

Attending the meeting were Dr. E. Donald Longenecker, chief psychologist of the Woods Schools in Langhorne, and Dr. Daniel Waldstein, school psychologist, Bristol Township.

"There is a need that has become increasingly apparent," said Mrs. Weintraub, "for a school that can provide the proper training and help for disturbed children at a relatively low cost, and we hope to supply this."

Facilities Available

It was announced that the William Penn Center, while not sponsoring the school, has arranged to allow the use of its facilities, and there will be a limit of five pupils to each teacher.

A board of consultants to be made up of a psychiatrist, a doctor of medicine and pediatrics, a psychologist, a social worker and an educator will be set up to aid the administration and help both children and parents, while acting in the capacity of a link between pupil and teacher.

"The state of Pennsylvania stands in forty-sixth place in the country, relative to the amount of money it spends per person on mental health and rehabilitation," said Dr. Waldstein, adding, "with the current budget cuts in mental

Cigarette Price Hike Is Expected Shortly

NEW YORK (UP)—Americans will pay a cent a pack more for non-filter tip cigarettes.

Five major tobacco companies raised wholesale prices 35 cents a thousand Monday, which works out to around one cent a pack at retail. The increases probably will be passed along to consumers.

The price hikes were blamed on rising costs of tobacco, labor and advertising.

Temperature Reaches 94 At Noon

Lower Bucks buckled, blistered, and burned today in what may prove to be the hottest June in history.

A 32-year June heat record is expected to be tied today as the mercury vaults into the 90's. It will fall tomorrow if the temperature sizzles into the 90's for the eighth straight June day, which would be the first time in history.

Street Buckles

A buckling street was reported in Trevose, shorts on males and females were reported everywhere, and area pools were clogged with splashers seeking to whip the pre-summer heat.

If it seems possible, today will be even warmer than yesterday, when the mercury stopped climbing at 95 at 3:15 p.m.

98 Forecast

Sunday's record 100 degrees may be approached today but the Weather Bureau at Trenton said the heat rise would probably stop at about 98 today.

Along with the fierce temperatures, the humidity continued to make the situation a lot worse with the air thick and sticky.

Tomorrow's outlook is for another day like today, hot, sticky, and uncomfortable.

A chance of showers was fore-

Tremendous Civic Spirit

'Operation Ghana' Trip Is Reality; $2000 Given

A tremendous outpouring of civic spirit, bolstered with financial contributions, has made the "Operation Ghana" trip a reality for August 14.

Approximately $2000 in funds have been contributed for the trip of five Pennsylvania High School students to the newest African republic, Ghana.

Marius Livingston, Pottsville High School teacher in charge of the trip, said the arrangements have been completed by the Department of State.

"Most of the naughty things I hear about our youngsters," the country preacher said, "are the same things I saw their parents outgrow."

Take it easy with the heat.

Kahle, Bob Trautman, Ginny Anna Giordano, and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz, Paul Chapla, and Ross Mrs. Livingston will leave by Allegheny Airlines with London as the first stop.

One Week Stay

The group will spend two days each in London, Paris, and Rome before reaching Ghana for a one-week stay. They will return by way of Paris and Lisbon.

Arrangements have been completed with the government of Ghana and the Department of State for an official welcome for the American good-will troupe.

The group was supposed to leave tomorrow but the trip was delayed because of lack of funds.

Mr. Livingston's expenses are being paid for by the state department, and as many students will go as funds for them are raised, the teacher said.

More than 25,000 books collected in the program will be shipped June 28 to Takoradi, Ghana's harbor city.

The books will be packed by the Petrie Company of Trenton and trucked to New York by the Apex Shipping Company. The Farrell Line will boat the books to Ghana free of charge.

Books will be distributed to the people of Ghana by the minister of education.

Organizations and individuals contributing to the drive include Fallsington Methodist Church, Fallsington Lions, Jewish War Veterans of Levittown, Lenox China, Fairless Hills Women's Club, Talone Gas Station, Delaware Valley Tractor Sales, and South End Auto Parts.

Also Morrisville Motors, T. Sidney Cadwallader, Yardley Pharmacy, L. Murray Lane's, Shaw Jewelry, Yardley Dress Shop, Marshall Cradle Shop, Kilgour, and McKenna Meat Market.

Life Magazine has also told Mr. Livingston it will carry the story of "Operation Ghana" on the pages of its magazine.

Final arrangements are being handled by the state department.

Dulles Asks for Speed In Girard Case Ruling

WASHINGTON (UP)—The federal judge deciding whether GI William S. Girard should be brought home immediately from Japan considered the case today under the spur of a plea for speed from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy was expected to hand down a decision sometime this week.

Dulles said in a disposition before the court released Monday that a speedy decision was needed to avoid "great embarrassment" to the United States.

Paul Barrett
Services Set
Tomorrow

Services will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m. at the Murphy Funeral Home, Bristol, for Paul J. Barrett, Bristol attorney who died in an automobile accident Sunday.

Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. at St. Mark's Catholic church. Interment will be in Our Lady of Grace Cemetery.

A viewing will be held today from 3 to 10 p.m. Members of Bristol Lodge 970, B.P.O. Elks, will meet at the Elks home tonight at 7:30 to go to the Murphy Funeral Home, where they will conduct a service.

Mr. Barrett, 49, was pronounced dead on arrival at Lower Bucks County Hospital, after his car hit a guard rail as he drove east on the Route 13 thruway in Falls township at Tyburn Road.

An autopsy, ordered yesterday by Bucks County Coroner Thomas C. Lamb, revealed the cause of death as shock due to fractured ribs, a lung laceration, ruptured spleen, fractured pelvis and other internal injuries.

Three Lower Bucks men who came on the scene of the accident came forward yesterday to clear up some of the haze regarding the crash.

Falls Township Police Chief Franklin Kirby said he was grateful for the cooperation the men showed in reporting to police after reading of the incident in yesterday's Courier and Times.

Chief Kirby identified the three men as Harold O'Neill, 110 Vermont Lane, Vermilion Hill, Levittown; Brooks Harris, Edgely; and Elwood Knapp, 213 Goldridge Drive, Levittown.

Police said each was driving in a separate car and arrived at the scene of the accident shortly after Mr. Barrett's car crashed on Route 13 at Tyburn Road.

The three men told police they stopped their cars and tried to free Mr. Barrett from under the steering wheel of his auto.

In order to do this, they told police, they righted the car which had flipped on its side.

Record Heat Stifles U.S.

A record heat wave blanketed most of the nation for the third day today, broken only by scattered storms that touched off damaging flash floods in the great plains and Ohio River Valley.

The death rate, mostly from drownings, soared with the temperatures across the eastern half of the nation.

The intense heat also caused power shortages in New York and Chicago, buckled streets and highways and disrupted work in offices and plants.

The United Press counted at least 154 persons dead in disasters blamed on the heat and a succession of floods since the weekend.

At least 101 of the victims drowned, 34 of them in nine southern states, 21 in New England, 10 in Ohio, 8 each in Wisconsin and Illinois, 6 each in New York, Indiana and Michigan and 2 in New Jersey.

In his senior year, Goldman was on the track and cross-country teams, winning varsity letters in both sports, and was top point scorer in cross-country. He will enter Dickinson College in the fall.

Tavern Man Thwarts Hold-Up Attempt

An apparent hold-up attempt was reported to Tullytown police late night by the co-owner of the Levittown Tavern, Nate Goldman.

Mr. Goldman told Auxiliary Patrolman Frank Jacob that after he began to drive home from the Tavern, at about 2:15 a.m., the tavern owner then started in a different direction and was blocked, he told the officer.

He finally got around the car and drove to a telephone to call police. Jacob said Goldman had $5 in his pocket at the time.

Tullytown Police To Get Heat Relief

Council was told the state will approve traffic light signals on Levittown Parkway at Spur Lane and at Lakeside Drive, provided they are timed with the other light signals on the Parkway.

Secretary Thomas Fagella was instructed to seek an official state permit.

To Resurface Drive

Borough Solicitor Jack Sirott was directed to advertise for bids to resurface Stonybrook Drive, in Levittown.

Council moved to buy the summer uniforms despite a warning by Chief John Walterker, that there will be no money left in the $500 clothing budget this fall to replace the overcoats the police have been wearing since 1952.

Council decided to provide funds from another account.

Need Is Seen In Upper Part Of Township

Middletown Township school officials are looking around for a site to build an elementary school in the upper part of the township.

Charles J. Tetlow, secretary of the school board, pointed out at the regular meeting last night that several new residential developments are planned for the upper end of the township. "We should think about building a school for this area while there is still a choice of sites," he said.

David Bernhardt, board president, appointed Tetlow, Walter Carter and himself as a committee to work with the school administrators in looking over possible sites.

Mrs. Alice Pickett suggested that the board ask Lester Ransom, former secretary, for a resume of all money he received as secretary. The secretary draws a salary of $1500. In addition, he is reimbursed for office expenses and receives a percentage of the real estate transfer tax which he collects.

Mrs. Pickett said she didn't have any idea of how much money the secretary made last year. "As board members I think we should know," she said.

To Sell Lot

It was reported that the county was going to sell a lot off Humble Ave., near Superhighway, for back taxes. The taxes due amount to $661. The county has been offered $200 for the land.

Since some of the money is due to the school board the county asked if the board had any objections. Mrs. Pickett and Samuel H. Everett were instructed to investigate the land to see if it is worth any more than $200.

Mrs. Pickett said the land had been occupied by Patsy Marconi, who maintained he had squatter's rights, since the country took it over several years ago.

The lot she has is frontage of 40 feet and is 675 feet deep.

The county courts will hold a hearing on the proposed sale June 28.

Soviet Paper Raps Stassen

LONDON (UP)—The official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia today accused Harold E. Stassen of trying to wreck the London disarmament talks although he threw his support Monday to a new Soviet disarmament scheme.

The Izvestia blast and reports that France plans to reject any outright ban on nuclear tests because it expects to have nuclear weapons of its own within two years raised major new snags in the London talks which resume Thursday.

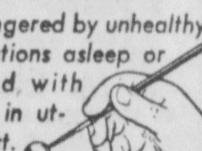

An Izvestia editorial broadcast by Moscow radio said "intrigues" had sprung up around Stassen aimed at wrecking the talks. It said Stassen had been given the task of trying to discredit the Soviet proposals by leading the U.N. disarmament subcommittee into an impasse and shifting responsibility for failure of the talks onto the Soviet Union.

The Russian blast was unexpected because Western delegates—especially the American delegate—said they were prepared to move toward the Soviet disarmament position.

Final tabulation of profits from the Yardley Street Fair will be announced tomorrow.

Don Outcalt, Yardley-Makefield Lions Club, sponsors of the affair said the money count has not yet been completed.

All funds from the annual event will go to the Yardley Community Center for repair and improvement of the building.

Makefield Police Car Must Wait

Lower Makefield Township's police car will have to hold out for at least another month.

Township officials announced today that all bids for a new police car have been refused, and bids for the new police car will be advertised for again.

The present vehicle has approximately 85,000 miles on it.

Specifications call for a bid with and without a trade-in on the old car.

After all bids are received the supervisors will decide whether or not to retain the present car as a second automobile or trade it in as part of the deal.

No decision has been reached by the supervisors on whether to allow the township's rescue vehicle to be stored in the township garage.

The situation is in the hands of the township solicitor for further study.

Philharmonic Orchestra To Conduct Auditions

Henry Kerr Williams, director of the Delaware Valley Philharmonic orchestra and chorus, will conduct adult auditions for the 1957-58 concert season on Saturday morning, June 29 from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon at Neshaminy High School, Old Lincoln Highway, Langhorne.

Those interested in trying out for an instrumental solo with one of the orchestra concerts should appear with their own accompanist and their selection must have the orchestral accompaniment available, the director said.

"Vocal soloists may audition for Handel's, 'Messiah,' Mendelssohn's, 'Elijah' and pop concert show tunes (with orchestral accompaniment available). Each soloist should have his or her own accompanist."

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Earla Lovett, personnel, at WI 5-2661.

She will be released from the hospital in about a week.

Morrisville Rotary Club Plans Picnic

Morrisville's Rotary Club will welcome summer with a summer eve picnic Thursday night at the farm home of a club member.

Thomas Rohner, program chairman of the club, announced that the picnic is scheduled for the farm home of Perc Haines in Yardley.

The woman's organization of the Morrisville Methodist Church will serve the picnic supper at the outdoor fete.

In case of rain, Mr. Rohner said, the event will be transferred to the Morrisville Methodist Church.

Last week the club heard Peter Campon, an immigrant from Italy, who has been here for a number of years, discuss "What Old Glory Represents."

Mr. Campon emphasized that most Americans take the freedom of this country too much for granted and don't work hard enough at honoring our democracy.

More than 70 members of the club attended the meeting at Pennsbury Inn.

Vote Dispute Meeting Set

The recessed meeting of the Bristol Township Democratic organization will reconvene 8 p.m. tonight in the cafeteria of Delhaas High School to settle the dispute over the election of a treasurer.

Russell W. Thompson, party chairman, announced that the executive board met last night and came up with a recommendation which will be presented to the organization tonight. Thompson urged all members to attend tonight's meeting.

Borough Is Seeking Title To Morrisville Alleys

The Borough of Morrisville accumulates in the alley ways between the homes making for a health factor as well as a road problem.

Two Tots Found Nearly Suffocated

SCRANTON, Pa. (UP) — Two small children, missing from their homes for about two hours, were found nearly suffocated yesterday trapped inside a junked automobile.

Arthur Marrifield, 2, was found unconscious on the floor in the front of the nearly airtight 10-year-old sedan, while his playmate, Betty Ann Morgan, 3, was semi-conscious and sobbing. Both children had their faces pressed against a heater vent from which a small amount of fresh air was entering.

Minimum Maintenance

Mr. Magee said the borough can perform only "a minimum amount of maintenance" on alleys now owned by private individuals.

The situation has become important because during the hot and dry summer months, dust enters

Review Stated

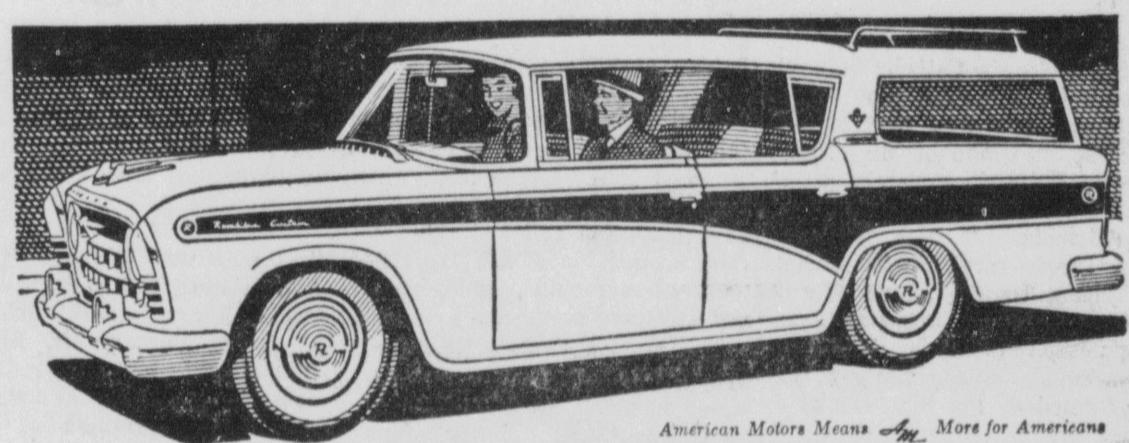

"A complete review of the situation will be made to determine which alleys belong to the borough and which can be taken over for maintenance," he said.

Several of the alleys have deep holes and are in need of maintenance if they are to continue serving for automobile passage, he said.

Mr. Magee said it would relieve the owners of the problem of maintenance if the borough took possession of all the alleys.

"We will also make every attempt to resurface many of these alleys under our present resurfacing project going on in the borough now," Mr. Magee said.
